

Question one:(9 points) Reading*Read and answer the questions:

Tom is the oldest son of four, and his parents give all their attention to the younger ones. They just ignore him. He feels very down because of that. He loves them, so he doesn't say anything. He just goes to his room alone. But he always wants to scream or explode. He sent his problem to Help World magazine.

Carrie from Australia tells Tom that he shouldn't do anything selfish or dramatic because his parents probably think that he can look after himself. Fuad from Bahrain tells him that he shouldn't explode, he can talk quietly with his parents and they may give him more attention. Finally, Rose from Spain tells him that he should be positive, not negative, because his parents aren't the whole cause of the problem and he is a part of it too. He can help look after the children and this will make his parents give him some attention.
