1- Read the text below. Then complete the following tasks:

The Secretary of State for Commerce and Industry stressed the importance of education for economic growth in a speech yesterday. 'Improving our education system will give us a generation of citizens who are better qualified to face the challenges of the technological age, as well as competition from low-wage economies in other countries in Asia and Africa,' he explained. 'It increases what people can earn, lifts people out of poverty and encourages opportunity.' He also suggested that the economic health of the country will suffer in future unless more attention is paid to investing in schools and universities. 'We could easily fall behind,' he said. 'I hope it won't happen. But unless we invest more, it might.'
