Read the following text about friendship carefully then complete the tasks below. Question Number One; (20 paints) so

It used to be thought friendship was something just happened between people, owever many could be friendship was something just happened between people. However, many studies by social scientists have shown that becoming friends with another person in Making (and another person is a complex process, but one that can be learnt. Making (and keeping) friends in a keeping) friends isn't easy -it takes effort. Here are the top five tips for turning someone you know into a lasting friend.

Everyone has acquaintances - people we know, but who aren't (yet) friends. To 1: Be interested: take your relationship further than just discussing the weather, you need to show an interest in their first fact. interest in their lives. Ask them questions (but don't get too personal at first). Even more importantly, listen to their answers and remember the information for the next time you meet.

2: Don't let one mistake get in the way:

Maybe you made a joke that annoyed your new friend, or forgot to call when you promised to . It's almost inevitable that something will go wrong at some point, but it's how you react to the situation that may be more important than the initial error. An honest apology and making the effort not to let it happen again are usually all that's needed.

3: Be clear, but not too demanding:

When making arrangements, there are two opposite ways of behaving that can harm a friendship. The first is forcing the other person to make all the decisions by saying things like 'I don't mind, you choose or 'Whatever you want'. The other is being too particular and inflexible about what you want to happen, or where, or when. To to find a middle way between the two extremes.

4: Don't try too hard:

It's understandable that you want to impress a new friend and make them aware of your good points, but don't go too far. Research shows that most of us tend to like people who don't boast about their achievements or take themselves too seriously.

5: Keep secrets to yourself:

If someone tells you something 'in confidence', it means just that - they are confident that you won't tell anyone else. In other words, they trust you. If you then pass on this information to another person, that trust is broken. Even if your friend doesn't find out what you've done, this kind of behaviour can easily destroy a friendship over time.

A: Decide which tip from the text is the best for each friend: 1. My friend complains because I always oblige her to decide our lessons time. 2. I know lots of people but I don't know how to turn them into friends. 3. My friends became very angry when I talked about the expensive decoration of my house.	(5 points) Tip—— Tip—— Tip——
 I informed my teacher what my friend Laila had told me. Your friend got upset because you didn't call him as you promised. 	Tip—
